This Week in Kindergarten...

We will conclude our exploration of tide pools and look forward to our study trip on Friday to Homer's Bishop's Beach. As we conclude our school year with reflections and memories of the past year, we will have fun in these final days of kindergarten connecting and creating together! We would like to thank all of the families for such an amazing school year and truly appreciate your willingness to share your wonderful children with us! Believe it or not, we teachers learn just as much from our students each year! This will be our last newsletter for the school year...enjoy your summer!
